

PARTICIPATION IN A RESEARCH PROJECT

Choice, control and the NDIS

DO YOU LIVE IN THE BARWON REGION?

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TALK ABOUT YOUR EXPERIENCE OF THE NDIS?

CAN YOU SPARE AN HOUR TO PARTICIPATE IN A UNIVERSITY RESEARCH PROJECT?

What is the study about?

We would like to talk with people living with disabilities in the Barwon region about their experiences of the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS). Your experiences will help us understand what's working well and what might work better in the scheme.

This research is funded by the University of Melbourne's Disability Research Initiative and the Melbourne Social Equity Institute.

What does the study involve?

We will come to the Barwon region to interview you and we will interview you in a venue that you will be able to access easily. We will ask you:

- What is it like getting support and services with the NDIS?
- Is it different from the previous way you accessed support and services?
- What things are working better?
- What things are harder?
- What other forms of support and information would be helpful?

You will receive a gift voucher for participating in this project.

IF YOU'RE INTERESTED AND WANT TO FIND OUT MORE, PLEASE CONTACT
ONE OF THESE PEOPLE BY PHONE OR EMAIL BEFORE 24 AUGUST 2016:

Sue Olney
Research Administrator
Melbourne School of Government
University of Melbourne
email: s.olney@unimelb.edu.au
telephone: 0456 823573

Helen Dickinson
Associate Professor
Melbourne School of Government
University of Melbourne
email: helen.dickinson@unimelb.edu.au
telephone: 03 9035 4746